

We're making stone soup—

a community event in High Wycombe to celebrate our diversity and unity

“Stone Soup” is a traditional story told in many cultures. Its message is that everyone has something worthwhile to contribute and that every contribution / offering counts.

What ingredients can you bring to add to the soup?

Some comments about the 2007 Faiths Fair:

Having faith in High Wycombe

Genuine sense of interest and a sense of community in our faiths

Lovely friendly atmosphere in the hall

Conversations were best.

Good opportunity to share and chat with those of other faiths and backgrounds

We have been able to show the true teaching of Islam and clear misconceptions about our religion.... The community now feels we are more approachable.

Excellent food!

The poetry reading was inspirational.
